Unflinching Courage Enables Yankees to Overhaul White Sox---Matty Performs as in Olden Days

MATTY SHOWS UP ALARMISTS; HALTS

His Second Victory of Season Due to Cool Pitching When Cardinals Threaten.

JUST AS GRACEFUL AND EFFECTIVE AS OF YORE

Matty did his best pitching of the year for the Giants yesterday and they beat the Cardinals, who don't often lose to Matty. The victory kept McGraw's team in seventh place, as the Reds beat the Brooklyns in a fifteen inning game, the second overtime contest in fortyeight hours. The Cubs shut out the Phi lies and ascended to the top again. Th Pirates and Braves didn't play and bot passed the Cardinals, who flopped t sixth place.

out of the slump which afflicted the club the moment it set foot on St. Louis soil. After losing two games in a row here it remained for Mathewson to check the Cards to-day and he did it in most convincing style. The old master slipped over a victory by 3 to 2. Furthermore, he won his second victory of the season on his pitching merits, an indication that his provess hasn't left him yet.

Matty's win was a big satisfaction, not only to himself but to McGraw also. A story sent out of Chicago last week said the big fellow was about through, but his work to-day didn't indicate it. He pitched just as gracefully and affectively as he did in his palmy days and the limb battle was the resolute uphill game playing of the Yankees. They combated a Chicago lead of seven runs at one time. A team that can fight as they did ought to win more games than they've been winning.

A tough day on pitchers. The hitting was destructive. The White Sox were furies with the bat in the early periods, the Yanks in the middle stage of the hostilities. The flelding was good, up to the best standards and snappy. Excitement and local success came after the results of the first two innings apparently had taken all the gimp out. He pitched just as gracefully and affectively of the seaton.

The White Sox were too confident. The word on Nunamaker's fly to Cook. Boone in the cighth tripled to left and scored on Nunamaker's fly to J. Collins, who made a good throw from a deep field.

Not only did outfield flies bear directly on the last two runs, but on the last two runs, but on the last play of the game. Roth tripled with one out. He tried to tally on Daly's of the game. Roth tripled with one out. He tried to tally on Daly's of the game and swift, a jewel of a fling, perfection in pegging. Roth slid between Nunamaker's legs, the latter put the ball on him and the umpire said out. It was a tough said out. It was a tough said out. It was a tough said out. It was a fough to be made. It looked as much out as safe, but not to the winning sapparently ha St. Louis, June 11 .- The Giants are

SLUMP OF GIANTS White Sox Storm Umpire O'Loughlin After Game for Herzog's Hit, Killifer's Bunt Calling Roth Out at Plate in Last Play of Day-Caldwell Hits Another Homer.

The Yankees finally beat the White Sox yesterday, after dropping five straight games to them. The Detroits lost in Boston, so the White Sox held their lead. The Washingtons took a whitewash from the Browns, and the Athletics strengthened their position in the first two innings. Keating, for instance, threw a sacrifice to the wrong base in the first, and Sweeney had a passed ball as a man was stealing. Hitting did the rest. Keating's fat wit play was responsible for three runs. He was taken out in the second after a base on balls, a double and a feter a base on balls, a double and a

BENTON REPELS DODGERS

CINCINNATI, June 11 .- Wilbert Robinson pitted his Texas League recruit, Ed Appleton, against Rube Benton, Herzog's sterling southpaw, this afternoon and for fifteen innings Brooklyn and Cinperate exhibitions on the local records. after a base on balls, a double and a single had put more dents in his fair fame as a moundman. Cy Pieh came in and dreamily held the ball while Age was served in this instance, for the veteran Benton proved just a wee bit stronger than his opponent and the Reds In and dreamily held the ball while Eddie Collins stole home, but in trying for third at the same time Fournier blundered. The psychology was right for Collins's steal, but it brought the Yanks out of their trance, and Fournirode home on the long end of the tight score of 1 to 0.

For fourteen innings Appleton kept the Reds' hits scattered, seven in all. er's dash was a feeble imitation of Coilin the fifteenth Herzog led off with a line's. toward third. Getz threw the ball to second just a second too late to get Herzog. Groh flied out and it looked as though the former Lone Star hurler in the first, after which the Yanks were dormant until the fifth. They quick-ened into life with a strikeout of Schwert which wasn't an out. Schwert had come into the game in the second. Sweeney was about to bat when Donovan summarily dismissed him and called in the young man who seldem sets any further. would pull through. But Tom Griffith, whom the Cincinnati fans believe to be young man who seldom gets any further into a ball game than the score card.

The third strike on Schwert in the fifth got away from Daly. Daly was very deliberate about throwing to first, almost haughtily so. When a Sox tarries his trouble begins. Daly overthrew first and hits by Cook, Peck and Pinn followed, patting these was a proper selection.

With the bases full Stengel fanned. On Wheat's grounder O'Mara was forced at the plate; Myers overran third, could not get back in time and the side was retired. From then on Benton steadied and fanned fourteen batsmen.

The majority of the bases on balls issued by both Appleton and Benton were intentional. In the fourteenth a pinch hit would have meant the game for the Dodgers. Daubert and Hummel—the latter having replaced Stengel after the latter had fanned three times—singled. With Daubert on third and —singled. With Daubert on third and Hummel on first Wheat popped to Herzog. Cutshaw walked. McCarty ended the inning by hitting into a double play.

Gilmore's Namesake One to Be Proud Of Z ANSAS CITY, June 11.-It

seldom falls to the lot of one ball player to execute two plays so notable as those recorded by Gilmore, right fielder of the Kansas City Federals. This namesake of the league's talkative president gained nationwide fame in Brooklyn last summer when he stole second with the bases full, a feat never performed by Ty Cobb in all his eight seasons. In the ninth inning of to-day's game a Chicago runner reached third base. A long foul fly was raised. Gilmore judged it perfectly after a hard run, arched his arms gracefully and made a beautiful catchthereby allowing the winning run to score for Chicago.

NOTES OF THE DL'MOND.

Felsch, although lame, played a fine game in all three games. Considerable ball player. He and Weaver were an industrious pair on offence. Between them they made eleven runs and twelve hits in the three games.

Batting in a pinch and making a home run one day and another the next, as Caldwell did, may not be unique, but it is a whole lot out of the ordinary.

Swift fielding by Peckinpaugh kept the Sox from tieling the score in the ninth John Collins, first up, all but tore Warhop's hands off with a wallop. Peck gathered the ball as it wrenched away from Warhop and his running throw beat Collins to the base by an eyelash.

Malone came to Mack under an alias and promises to make a star second baseman. Here's a receipe for any manager who's shy a star second baseman. Here's a receipe for any manager who's shy a star second baseman.

Last place in the National League is only a few points below first place and minus the strain. A comforting philosophy but not one conductive to success.

With Cook on third in the fifth and Peck on second, Pipp nit hard to right.

William Pyatt and Charles Jandorf were held for the action of the Grand Jury on June 3 by Justice of the Peace Walter R. Jones at Hempstead for bookmaking at Belmont Park.
